INTEGRITY • TRANSPARENCY • INDEPENDENCE • TIMELINESS

Quarterly Report

Third Quarter

October 15, 2017

I. Authority

The Civilian Office of Police Accountability (COPA) was created by City Council on October 5, 2016. COPA officially launched on September 15, 2017. COPA intakes all complaints of police misconduct, and investigates complaints involving excessive force, domestic violence, coercion, verbal abuse, unlawful search or seizure, and unlawful denial of counsel. COPA also investigates certain types of incidents including all officer-involved firearm discharges, all officer-involved deaths, and any incident involving an officer that results in great bodily harm.

The mission of COPA is to:

- Provide a just and efficient means to fairly and timely conduct investigations within our jurisdiction;
- Determine whether allegations of police misconduct are well-founded;
- Identify and address patterns of police misconduct; and
- Make policy recommendations to improve the Chicago Police Department (the Department), thereby reducing incidents of police misconduct.

COPA is also required to provide quarterly updates on its performance. This report provides summary statistical data on COPA's operations from September 15, 2017 to September 30, 2017.

To learn more about COPA and our investigations, operations, and public information, please visit www.chicagocopa.com.

II. Complaints and Notifications Received

From September 15, 2017 to September 30, 2017, COPA received 184 matters for investigation. Of those, 139 fell within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Internal Affairs (BIA). COPA retained 45 investigations. Of those investigations, 40 were complaint-based and 5 were notifications.

III. Investigations Transferred from the former agency

When COPA launched on September 15, 2017, COPA’s predecessor transferred 941 cases to COPA.¹ The average age of cases transferred from the Independent Police Review Authority (IPRA) was approximately 439 days. Of those, 78 were investigations concerning officer-involved firearm discharges that struck an individual.² Most of the transferred pending investigations involve allegations of excessive force.

IV. Investigations Pending

As of September 30, 2017, COPA had 932 pending investigations. Most investigations included allegations of excessive force. As of September 15, 2017, COPA took on the responsibility of investigating allegations of 4th Amendment violations, which made up 2.7% of the pending cases.

¹ Per COPA’s ordinance (MCC §2-78), the transfer of all materials, including investigatory files and evidence, from the Independent Police Review Authority to COPA was completed on September 14, 2017.

² Note: Officer-involved firearm discharges include three main types of investigations: discharges that strike a person (informally, these cases are referred to as “officer-involving shootings”), discharges that do not strike anyone, and discharges that are aimed at an animal and may or may not strike an animal.

V. Investigations Closed

From September 15, 2017 to September 30, 2017, COPA closed 44 investigations. COPA closed 6 investigations with findings and 38 cases without findings.³ Of the 6 investigations closed with findings, 2, or 33.3%, were sustained, including an officer-involved shooting determined to be outside of the Department's policy.

Figure 8: Investigations closed with findings from September 15, 2017 to September 30, 2017.

Of the 38 investigations closed with non-positive findings, 29 were closed administratively and 2 were closed due to lack of an affidavit. There were seven (7) officer-involved shootings (OIS) that were closed and determined to be "Within Policy."⁸

³ Findings include Sustained, Not Sustained, Unfounded, and Exonerated. Cases closed without findings can have the following dispositions: Administratively Closed, Administratively Terminated, closed due to Lack of an Affidavit, and Closed – Within Policy Notification of a weapon discharge (e.g., officer-involved shootings).

⁴ Sustained: The allegation was supported by sufficient evidence to justify disciplinary action. Recommendations of disciplinary action may range from violation noted to separation from the Department.

⁵ Not Sustained: The allegation is not supported by sufficient evidence which could be used to prove or disprove the allegation.

⁶ Unfounded: The allegation was not supported based on the facts revealed through investigation, or the reported incident did not occur.

⁷ Exonerated: The incident occurred, but the action taken by the officer(s) was deemed lawful and proper.

⁸ An investigation of an officer-involved shooting is deemed to be Within Policy if, given the preponderance of the evidence, the officer's actions comported with Department's policy regarding use of force at the time the incident occurred.

Of investigations closed during this time period, 70.5% were closed in under 180 days (6 months). Of the 13 investigations that lasted longer than 6 months, 12 were use of force investigations (i.e. excessive force, officer-involved shootings, death in custody), which are more complex investigations and typically take longer than 6 months to close. Nine (9) of these investigations involved firearm discharges.

VII. Policy Recommendations

From September 15, 2017 to September 30, 2017, COPA did not submit any recommendations concerning policy, practices, training, programs, or collective bargaining agreements to the Department or to other involved City agencies.

VIII. COPA Launch Update

Since COPA's establishment on October 5, 2016 by the City Council, the agency's leadership team has been hard at work building the agency. The work of the agency is centered around four key tenets:

Integrity, Transparency, Independence, and Timeliness.

The agency's leadership set out to design COPA as a best-in-class civilian oversight agency by focusing on strengthening the following areas:

1. Investigative Procedures

To ensure that COPA's work was done according to best practices, COPA leadership drafted new Rules and Regulations (available at www.chicagocopa.org/about-copa/rules-regulations/), policies (including an employee handbook and a robust employee performance plan), and detailed procedures (including a manual for investigators).

2. Hiring

To ensure that COPA had the best staff to fulfill its mission, COPA leadership worked with the City's Department of Human Resources to develop and implement a rigorous hiring plan that included revised job descriptions, higher minimum experience and education qualifications for investigative staff, testing applicants for the investigator positions on key investigative skill sets, and conducting a rigorous interview process.

3. Training

To fulfill the City's expectations of timely and quality work, COPA leadership developed and implemented a training academy that spanned over six weeks that included national and local experts in investigations, law enforcement oversight, and procedural justice.

4. Community Outreach

To fulfill the ordinance's requirement for community outreach, COPA leadership hired more public relations staff to develop new and innovative partnerships with community organizations and to engage the community in new programming aimed at providing information about the work of the agency.

All this work led to the grand opening and launch of the new agency on September 15, 2017, at which time, COPA took on the responsibility of civilian oversight of the Department.

a. Staffing

Since November of 2016, COPA’s senior leadership team has recruited qualified and experienced professionals. As of October 15, 2017, COPA has filled 82% of its employee vacancies. The chart below details the status of our hiring process.

On October 4, 2017, COPA’s then-Chief Administrator resigned and Mayor Rahm Emanuel appointed Judge Patricia Banks (ret.) to serve as the Interim Chief Administrator until the City identifies, approves, and hires a Chief Administrator

b. Staff Demographics

COPA’s staff reflects a cross-section of the ethnic make-up of the City and reside in neighborhoods throughout Chicago. Nearly half of COPA’s workforce identifies as a person of color.

In addition, 54% of COPA's staff identifies as female, while 46% identify as male.

c. Training

To deliver quality and thorough investigations, COPA has dedicated a significant amount of resources towards training our staff. Under the direction of the Director of Training and Professional Development, the agency has developed training programs that teach foundational investigative and legal skills, and is currently developing ongoing in-service training to ensure our investigators' and attorneys' skillsets are up-to-date.

Figure 19: COPA's training approach as of September 30, 2017.

d. Community Engagement

The Public Affairs Department is responsible for overseeing COPA's community engagement strategy. Under the direction of the Director of Community Outreach & Engagement, COPA has identified three central priorities for its community outreach efforts:

- Engage
- Educate
- Inform

Engage

As an agency, we understand how important transparency is in our continued relationship with the residents of the city of Chicago. COPA's outreach begins with a neighborhood-centered approach. Based on internal data, we have identified communities with high levels of police interactions. Beginning in October 2017, agency representatives will be attending aldermanic, faith, community, educational and police beat meetings in these neighborhoods to facilitate the submission of complaints should any resident have an interaction where they believe a Department member violated Department policy.

Educate

As we seek to engage residents through various programs, COPA is also forming strategic partnerships with community organizations in order to create educational curriculum that teaches about COPA's investigative processes, use of force concepts, and know your rights policies. Periodic public forums will also serve as opportunities for the public to provide the agency with feedback on how we are doing and what additional measures our agency should focus on.

Inform

With the recent launch of the agency and new website, we now can provide updates to the community on upcoming agency events and new information about our work.

IX. Community Outreach
